Submissions should preferably be made to the Editor electronically. An abstract of not more than seventy words should accompany the submission. Since Ancient Philosophy has adopted a policy of "blind review," information identifying the author should appear separately from the submission.

Most reviews are invited. But colleagues wishing to write a review should contact John Bussanich (john.bussanich@gmail.com).

It is the policy of the journal that the copyright of the contents of each issue belongs to Mathesis Publications.

Aims and scope

The Australasian Philosophical Review is a general journal of philosophy in Open Peer Commentary format. It publishes significant and controversial invited lead articles by authors from all areas of philosophy, together with invited and open peer commentaries on those invited lead articles, and lead authors' responses to all of these commentaries. Each issue has a different curator, (chosen by a committee of the Australasian Association of Philosophy). The curator, in conjunction with an issue committee established by the curator, is responsible for the choice of the author of the invited lead article and the authors of the invited commentaries. The curator and the issue committee also select open peer commentaries following a rigorous, blinded review process. In order to submit an open peer commentary for consideration for publication in an issue, potential authors must first sign up to the APR Commentary Community, at <http://australasianphilosophical-review.org/> ("register as a commentator").

Manuscript Preparation for Australasian Philosophical Review

Aims and scope

The BJHP publishes articles and reviews on the history of philosophy from the ancient world to the end of the twentieth century. The journal is designed to foster understanding of the history of philosophy through studying the writings of past philosophers in their context and with sensitivity to issues of both philosophical argumentation and historical development.

Although focusing on the recognized classics, a feature of the journal is to give attention to less major figures and to influences and relationships that are often overlooked. Articles cover the history of Western philosophy, although articles that explore connections to other traditions are also encouraged.

Editorial Office: Prof. Michael Beaney, Editor, BJHP, Department of Philosophy, King's College London, Strand, London WC2R 2LS, UK. Email: bjhp@bshp.org.uk

Books for review should be sent to the Editorial Office, addressed 'Book Reviews Editor, BJHP'. Email: bookreviews@bshp.org.uk

The BULLETIN, the JOURNAL and the REVIEW OF SYMBOLIC LOGIC are the official organs of the Association for Symbolic Logic, an international organization for furthering research in logic and the exchange of ideas among mathematicians, computer scientists, linguists, and others interested in this field. The BULLETIN encourages submissions of Articles and Communications in all areas of logic, including mathematical or philosophical logic, logic in computer science or linguistics, the history or philosophy of logic, and applications of logic to other fields. It also encourages the submissions of abstracts for doctoral level theses in logic. The BULLETIN also publishes reviews of publications in logic.

Articles present topics of broad interest in a way that is accessible to a large audience. They can be purely expository, survey, or historical articles or they may contain, in addition, new ideas or results or new approaches to old ones.

Communications should be announcements of important new results and ideas in any aspect of logic; they may be short papers in their final form or preliminary announcements (extended abstracts, position papers) of longer, full papers that will be published elsewhere. In any case, they should include, in addition to a description of the new results or ideas, enough history, background, and explanation to make the significance of the work apparent to a wide audience. Communications will be quickly refereed and published within six months of the submission of final version.

To submit Articles or Communications please follow the procedure described at <http://www.aslonline.org/journals-bulletin-guide.html>

To submit Thesis Abstracts please follow the procedure described at <http://aslonline.org/LogicThesisAbstracts.html>

Books for review in the BULLETIN should be sent to ASL, Department of Mathematics, University of Connecticut, 341 Mansfield Road, U-1009, Storrs, CT 06269-1009, USA.
